

Chicano, Latino, and indigenous men undergrads and graduate students are invited to an informal conversation

A Men's Plática with Professor and Chair Luis E. Guarnizo

from the Human and Community Development Dept., UCD

Professor Guarnizo is co-editor, with Michael Smith, of Transnationalism from Below: Comparative Urban and Community Research

His research interests include Economic Sociology, transnational migration, immigrant entrepreneurs, comparative international development, and citizenship

The Graduate Education Opportunities Series offers this Plática as a means for students to have the chance to learn about how Prof. Guarnizo came to his work, his research and teaching, and at the same time, to ask him questions about graduate education and allow him to provide advice about progressing through the path of higher education.

November 19, 2008
12:00-1:30 pm
Mee Room (3rd floor of MU)

*Refreshments Provided***

Sponsored by the Chicana/Latina Research Center, Chicana/o Studies, La Raza Culture Days, GAAP/SRRC, and MALCS Campus Chapter