

Rigoberta Menchú

Nobel Peace Prize recipient, 1992
“Human Rights and Indigenous Peoples”

Friday, October 21, 2005, 8:00 pm

Jackson Hall

Robert and Margrit Mondavi Center for the Performing Arts

Tickets $10 general admission, $5 for students and under 18

<http://www.mondaviarts.org/>

email: tickets@ucdavis.edu

Tel. 530-754-ARTS

For more information go to <<http://hia.ucdavis.edu/hianotices.htm>>

Tel. 530-752-3046

The author of I, Rigoberta Menchú, an Indian Woman in Guatemala, Nobel Laureate and survivor of genocide, she now heads the Rigoberta Menchú Tum Foundation <<http://www.rigobertamenchu.org/>> and holds the position of Good Will Ambassador for the Peace Accords in Guatemala.

Sponsored by the Hemispheric Institute on the Americas and the following UC Davis units: Center for the Study of Human Rights in the Americas, Spanish & Classics, Native American Studies, Chicana/Latina Research Center, Women's Resources and Research Center, Chicano/Latino Alumni Assn., University Outreach and International Programs, School of Law, UC Davis Extension, Campus and Community Relations, Davis Humanities Institute, College of Agricultural and Environmental Sciences, College of Letters and Science Division of Social Sciences and Division of Humanities Arts and Cultural Studies.

Background photo Ann Taylor, OxFamAUS